

CONTENT PILLAR BUILDER

A guided reflection to help you reconnect with your core message and create content with renewed intention.

WELCOME

Hi!

I'm Marina and I'm thrilled that you're taking a moment to work on your business rather than staying caught up in the day-to-day. Whether you're building your content pillars for the first time or simply revisiting them with fresh eyes, gaining clarity on your message is one of the most powerful things you can do for your brand. When you know what you want to be known for, content stops feeling like guesswork and starts feeling intentional. Your audience begins to recognise your voice, connect with your perspective, and trust the work you do.

This exercise is designed to bring you back to the heart of your business – the themes that feel natural to speak about, the ideas that reflect your values, and the transformation you want your clients to experience. Whether you're refining what already exists or starting from scratch, realigning your pillars helps content feel lighter, more aligned, and far easier to sustain. You'll walk away with a clearer foundation to guide your posts, your message, and the way you show up online throughout the years.

It's a small moment of reflection that can shift the way you create and communicate and I'm glad you're taking it.

THE ALIGNMENT EXERCISE

Take a breath, grab a pen, and answer these four questions.
Your pillars are already in you - we're just uncovering them.

01

What do people consistently come to you for?

This reveals where your audience already sees your value.

02

What topic could you talk about endlessly?

This is your personal "content well" - the theme that never runs dry.

03

What transformation do you help people achieve?

This shifts the thinking from what you do to what people become when they work with you.

04

What perspective makes your approach unique?

This is your edge - the reason someone chooses you instead of another business.

BUILD YOUR THREE PILLARS

Notice the themes that repeat in your answers.
Those are your natural content pillars - the messages your audience already connects with.
